Lower your energy costs and reduce your dependence on the power grid with the award-winning energy storage system that provides more power, more safety, and the industry's longest warranty.

VillaGrid is the longest lasting home battery with the highest power while also being the safest and most efficient battery on the market. It combines the highest lifetime usable energy with the lowest lifetime cost of ownership, and performs in the harshest environments.

Homeowners and businesses may be eligible for the Federal Investment Tax Credit worth up to 26% of your solar installation costs in 2021. This tax credit extends to solar batteries.

According to the Solar Energy Industries Association (SEIA), in order for the cost of installing a residential solar battery system to qualify for the solar tax credit, it must "derive 100% of power from an onsite solar array." This means that your solar energy system, whether it is rooftop solar or ground-mount solar, must charge your solar battery exclusively for the battery to qualify for the tax credit savings. Charging a solar battery from the electricity grid does not qualify.

Depending on the battery and how much you are using it, batteries can provide power for several hours, or longer. Battery storage can be an important component of a more robust emergency preparedness plan in the event of a power outage.

In preparation for the next wildfire season, the CPUC has authorized funding of more than $1 billion through 2024 for SGIP. This funding includes prioritization of communities living in high fire-threat areas, communities that have experienced two or more utility Public Safety Power Shut-offs (PSPS) events, as well as low income and medically vulnerable customers. The funds are also available for "critical facilities" that support community resilience in the event of a PSPS or wildfire.
