Your skip must only be filled to a level load or it may not be collected. Please note that the standard skip hire period is 14 days. If you need longer please contact us or your skip could be collected automatically.

Collection will usually happen during the next day although sometimes it can take a little longer. Please ensure we can access the skip when required and that the skip load is level as a wasted journey fee could apply if we are unable to remove it.

Skips are most commonly named and categorized by the number of cubic yards of waste they can contain. The smallest skips can go as low as 2 cubic yards while the biggest skips can reach capacities of 40 yards.

The standard skip hire period has a maximum hire time of 14 days. Be careful as this is not always the case. If for example, your skip is placed on the road with the permissions of a skip permit, your hire period may be shorter.

Placing a skip in the road or in a parking bag will require a skip permit and/or a parking suspension, both of which will add extra costs. If the delivery or collections is blocked by something like a parked car for example, this would incur a wasted journey fee. If you overfill your skip it may be too dangerous to collect which would also incur a fee. If you put prohibited items into your skip, such as tins full of paint, fridges, upholstered furniture and sofas, this can lead to an additional charge.

Unless previously agreed and with the use of a specialist skip you must avoid filling your skip with: Upholstered Furniture, sofas, food waste, hazardous waste, white goods, large electrical items, fluorescent tubes, chemicals and solvents, plasterboard and gypsum. Be wary when using skips that are 8 cubic yards in capacity and over when you want to get rid of heavy and dense waste. Skips have a weight limit so if you're filling a large skip with heavy items like bricks, it becomes all too easy to accidentally exceed your weight limit.

As long as you don't incur any extra charges by putting prohibited items such as chemicals in your skip, the only payment you'll make is at the point of purchase. Our booking process has been streamlined to ensure it's a seamless and quick experience for all of our customers.

You can simply browse through the Clearabee house, garden or office and begin adding items to your basket as you go the clever calculator will be adding away and provide you with a rough estimate.
