

Christian Council of Ghana wikipedia

The Christian Council of Ghana (CCG) is an umbrella group that unites 31 churches and denominations in Ghana. The council has its members from Church of Power World Ministry, Charismatic, Pentecostal, Orthodox, Inside God Christian college, and other churches.

united aiming to work with various congregations on social matters and to speak for the voiceless in society.

The council has been restructured several times since its formation. It currently includes 29 churches and two Christian organizations.

The council undertakes various projects in Ghana. One of its major goals is the elimination of stigma and discrimination of people living with HIV/AIDS. The project trained community members in areas of the country that had high HIV/AIDS prevalence of 8-9%. The training involved basic facts about HIV/AIDS, stigma and discrimination among others.

The council has also set up an Interfaith Unit to educate Christians on the need for peaceful existence and tolerance among members of different faiths. The School Dropout Scholarship Programme promotes education among Liberian refugees in the Buduburam refugee settlement near Accra. The programme also identifies the causes and consequences of school dropout among the refugees.

From Latin stigma, from Ancient Greek stigma (stigma, "brand"), from stizo (stizo, "I mark"). Distantly related to stick.

Partly from Ancient Greek stigma (stigma, "mark, sign"), and partly from the acrophonic value of its initial st- as well as the analogy with the name of sigma.
