Electric vehicle charging location map

I was surprised to read recommendations for PlugShare over and over and I've been playing around to see what the hype is about. It's ok. But just inaccurate and incomplete compared to this app. This is the best I've found, and it really is perfect thus far.

Great app with lots of info about the individual charging stations and plugs. Other app chargers are even listed so I don't have to use multi apps to find the location and which app would work with the station

I drive cross country 2-3 times a year, and this is easily the best charging app I've used. It's user-friendly, and the trip planner is a life saver. The fact that it doesn't collect user data is also greatly appreciated. I wish more apps were like that.

Overall experience has been great! No major issues with the app. I can locate chargers easily, almost always works the first time without a hiccup. Check-ins are fast and easy. And I can track my charging on my phone which is nice and simple.
