

Geographic locations malaysia

Peninsular Malaysia constitutes the southernmost tip of the mainland Asian continent to the west of East Malaysia. This region mainly consists of the Malayan Mountain Range, running the length of the peninsula with the highest peak, Mount Tahan, reaching 2,187 m (7,175 ft) above sea level. The range primarily serves as a watershed, with rivers flowing into the Straits of Malacca to the west and the South China Sea to the east. The coastal plains adjacent to the Malacca Straits are wider and more fertile, supporting agriculture, while the eastern plains are narrower and less fertile.

Seas and straits: To the west of Peninsular Malaysia lies the Straits of Malacca, one of the most significant shipping lanes in the world. The South China Sea borders the east of the peninsula, while the Celebes Sea and the Sulu Sea border Sabah in East Malaysia.

Malaysia is divided into 13 states (Negeri) and 3 federal territories (Wilayah Persekutuan). Out of these - 11 states and 2 federal territories are situated in West Malaysia; 2 states and 1 federal territory in Borneo Island (East Malaysia). In alphabetical order, the 13 states are: Johor, Kedah, Kelantan, Malacca, Negeri Sembilan, Pahang, Penang, Perak, Perlis, Sabah, Sarawak, Selangor and Terengganu. Kuala Lumpur, Labuan and Putrajaya are the federal territories in Malaysia. The states are further subdivided into districts and smaller subdivisions.

Located in the Klang Valley, Kuala Lumpur is the capital and the biggest city in Malaysia. Besides being, the cultural and economic center of Malaysia, Kuala Lumpur is also one of the top tourist destinations in the world.

The above map represents the SoutheastAsian country of Malaysia with two major regions, Peninsular Malaysia (West Malaysia) and East Malaysia. The map can be downloaded, printed for free, and used for educational work like map-pointing activities.

The above map represents Malyasia. The country is divided into two main regions. The peninsular Malaysia (on the left) and insular Malaysia (on the right). The latter is part of the island of Borneo.

Malaysia is a Southeast Asian nation, that exists on two sides of the South China Sea,split into Peninsular Malaysia which covers the southernmost point of Eurasia, and Malaysian Borneo&hellip;

Malaysia is a Southeast Asian nation, that exists on two sides of the South China Sea,split into Peninsular Malaysia which covers the southernmost point of Eurasia, and Malaysian Borneo (East Malaysia), which is on the island of Borneo. Malaysia is bordered by Thailand on the peninsula, and Indonesia and Brunei on the island of Borneo. Malaysia covers an area of 329,847 square kilometers (127,355 square miles).

Geographic locations malaysia

Malaysia is divided into two regions, with a total of thirteen states based on Malay Kingdoms, and three federal territories. East Malaysia, or the part of the country on the island of Borneo, is home to the states of Sabah, Sarawak, and Labuan, a federal territory. Peninsular Malaysia is home to the other eleven states and two federal territories.

Contact us for free full report

Web: <https://www.sumthingtasty.co.za/contact-us/>

Email: energystorage2000@gmail.com

WhatsApp: 8613816583346

