This wall-mounted all-in-one model is a great performer for year-round use as it works as a powerful air conditioner in the summer and a cost-effective heater in the winter. It functions as a dehumidifier too, which is great for keeping damp and moisture at bay. The air conditioner boasts an impressive BTU rating that's ideal for cooling spaces up to 35 sqm, without taking up vital floor space. The heater only requires a small amount of power to operate, which makes it an incredibly efficient way of heating your room, compared to electrical or central heating.

Advanced scheduling - Set the air conditioner to automatically run at different temperatures at different times of the day. Scheduling saves you money as air conditioning will only operate when it is needed.

As with any heat pump-based heater, the performance can reduce at lower outdoor temperatures, and as such it is advisable to have supplementary heating available when outdoor temperatures are sub zero, especially if the room is poorly insulated
