Our Welsh slate is renowned for its exceptional durability and timeless appearance. Quarried in the heart of Wales, it's considered one of the finest roofing materials available, offering a lifespan of over 100 years. With its deep, rich tones and fine grain, Welsh slate is ideal for both traditional and contemporary designs, bringing a touch of luxury to any property.

Spanish slate is a versatile and cost-effective option, known for its natural beauty and consistent quality. Favoured across Europe, it offers excellent resistance to weathering and provides a uniform, classic look that complements a wide range of architectural styles. Brazilian slate is a standout choice for those seeking something distinct. With its unique texture and colour variations, it adds character and depth to any roof, combining durability with a more organic, earthy appeal.

Our Chinese slate range offers a budget-friendly alternative without compromising on quality. Carefully selected for performance, these slates deliver reliable weather protection while offering a sleek, uniform appearance. Whatever your project demands, Roofing Supplies UK's collection of natural roof slates ensures you'll find the perfect blend of quality, aesthetics, and long-lasting performance.

Introducing our premium collection of torch on felt products, meticulously engineered by experts like Danosa, for superior performance. Crafted with durability in mind, each boasts a robust construction reinforced with high-quality materials. From underlays to cap sheets, our torch on roofing felt range offers unmatched reliability.

Acrylic glazing sheets provide crystal-clear visibility, making them an excellent choice for windows, displays, and protective barriers. These sheets are lightweight, easy to handle, and offer superior weather resistance, making them suitable for both indoor and outdoor use. For projects requiring enhanced impact resistance, our flat polycarbonate sheets deliver exceptional strength without compromising on clarity. They're ideal for applications such as greenhouse panels, safety glazing, and roofing.

For a more budget-friendly option, our clear polystyrene sheets provide excellent optical clarity at a fraction of the cost. These sheets are perfect for lightweight applications, such as interior panels or secondary glazing. We source our products from trusted manufacturers like Corotherm and Ariel Plastics, ensuring consistent quality and reliability. Whatever your glazing needs, our diverse selection of flat glazing sheets combines durability, performance, and ease of installation, making them the perfect solution for any project.
