The Builders Market

If you'd like to find a builder in your area, MyJobQuote can help you out. We have a variety of local builders that are ready to give you a quote. You can get up to 3 quotes and choose the best builder that's right for you within your budget.

It doesn't matter how big or small the job is, whether you need to build an extension or loft conversion or if you need to knock down a load-bearing wall, MyJobQuote will have a reputable builder for the job.

When deciding which builder to hire, it's worth looking out for a CSCS card (Construction Skills Certification Scheme), which means they have the correct training to complete construction jobs on site. There are also some qualifications to look out for in construction, such as an NVQ (National Vocational Qualification) or a completed apprenticeship.

Being a member of the FBM (Federation of Master Builders) is another good sign of a competent builder. It's always worth asking for examples of previous work and references from previous customers, too.
